LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

Welcome to Surf Man Website Directory Issue 1, the PDF version of SURFMAN.co website.

This is a website + social media directory.

In this directory you will find website and social media listings to useful and interesting websites curated by David Thrift (that's me), the owner and editor of the SURFMAN.co establishment.

It should be noted that this directory will not appeal to everyone. You will know if the content in this publication is for you or not.

This is a USA focused directory, although you may find some foreign listings.

Listings range from mild (SFW) to wild (NSFW), and you use these directory listings at your own choosing.

I have been working on this directory since October 2025, and the content included here is what I have manged to pull together from that time until the date this first issue is published. Other issues will follow, although I cannot give a specific timeframe for how often this will happen.

I would like to thank you for checking out this directory, and I hope you find something useful in it.

Editor - David Thrift, SURFMAN.co

Let's get into it. . .

PERPLEXITY PROMPTS PERSONAL

I enjoy using perplexity.ai for gathering information about website, and general research.

These are some of my most used personal prompts and are not organized yet (maybe in the next publishing), but you can get the point of what results they are intended to pull from Perplexity. By “not organized”, I mean placed in categories specific to different areas where they are used in the Surf Man Project.

If you ever wanted to know how I use Perplexity to assist me in piecing this monstrous publication together, here are some of the ideas I use. Replace urls with those that fit your interest if you use these. Also note that these can probably be used on other AI platforms such as ChatGPT for similar results. Perplexity just happens to be my preferred AI research tool.

This list was finalized on Thursday, May 21, 2026 at 8:09 AM CST.

1. Analyze (insert url) and give me all similar sources from other sites.
2. Give me a rundown of this blog (insert url)
3. In one detailed paragraph, tell what (insert url) is.
4. List 25 interesting things in the news across Alabama during the past week, avoiding politics and religion. Each item should have a detailed 3-5 sentence description with date.

5. List 25 interesting things in the news for Opelika, Alabama during the past week, avoiding politics and religion. Each item should have a detailed 3-5 sentence description with date.
6. List upcoming events in Opelika, Alabama over the next few months.
7. Look at accuweather.com and provide a detailed weather report for all across the US.
8. Please give me a summary in 10 detailed paragraphs of what is happening in the news today at androidpolice.com
9. Please give me a summary in 10 detailed paragraphs of what is happening in the news today at usatoday.com in technology.
10. Provide a full list of relevant hashtags from (insert url)
11. Provide a summary in 10 detailed paragraphs of what is happening in the news today at usatoday.com avoiding politics and religion.
12. WEBSITE DESCRIPTIONS FOR DISCOVERIES - Summarize what ??? is in 3 detailed sentences.

PERPLEXITY PROMPTS SUGGESTED

One of my favorite features of Perplexity (and Google Search as well) is that when you search for something, it gives you related and/or alternative ideas to search on. These are prompts for inquiries I have made on Perplexity, and others that were suggested to me by Perplexity during some of my content curation sessions, or just things I asked it about out of curiosity. These prompts were collected to show some of the ideas you can use Perplexity to research on. Feel free to change the topics in these prompts to fit your information searches. Note: This list was never supposed to get this big, but once I started collecting these prompts, I couldn't stop, like with pretty much everything else in this publication.

Personal notes: According to my records, I set up my Perplexity account on Sunday, October 19th, 2025 at 2:55 PM CST, and I have been using the account as a free user since. These prompts provided below have been collected in evaluation for what information Perplexity can provide. I can say with confidence that Perplexity has been very useful, and I look forward to being able to use some of these for deeper research should I ever decide to subscribe to a premium account. - UPDATE - Went Pro on Sunday, March 1, 2026 at 7:16 PM CST.

Disclaimers:

I do not include the answers given to me by Perplexity for any of these inquiries due to how information can change over time and because these are provided merely as guidance on the types of things you can ask Perplexity to give you information on. You need to search for yourself using these prompts provided for current knowledge.

Subjects in these inquiries may or may not pertain specifically to my own personal interests. Don’t judge me!

This list was finalized on Thursday, May 21st, 2026 at 7:52 AM CST.

1. 4WIDE website demo link
2. 7+ Taskbar Tweaker for advanced behavior customization

649. How has Rebelle Rally influenced Rivian vehicles

650. How has SkyscaperCity evolved since it 2002 founding

651. How has the shift to a Grok-based transformer model changed things (e.g., AI predicts engagement likelihood instead of raw counts, no manual tweaks for relevance)?

652. How has the White House officially responded to Kimmel's segment and to renewed media scrutiny of Epstein ties?

653. How has the X.com legal structure evolved (mergers into X Corp., and any later mergers or links to xAI or other Musk entities)?

654. How has the "fediverse" and the rise of alternative platforms affected X's position in real-time social media?

655. How has X algorithm changed user reach in 2026

656. How has X amplified foreign influence or propaganda (e.g., state-affiliated accounts, VPN detections), and what regulatory responses emerged?

657. How has X become a "decentralized newsroom" (Musk's vision), with citizen journalists and influencers rivaling traditional outlets?

658. How has X evolved from the "digital town square" (Musk's term) into a primary source for breaking news, and what percentage of users cite it as their top news platform (e.g., ~60% for politics)?

659. How has X influenced niche cultures (crypto, gaming, fitness, "CT" crypto Twitter), including creator economies or anti-institutional sentiment?

660. How has X optimized for high availability (e.g., sharding, replication, rate limiting during spikes like elections or Musk posts)?

661. How has X responded to national and regional online safety laws (e.g., Australia's Online Safety Act, EU Digital Services Act, California transparency laws), and what fines or enforcement actions has it faced?

662. How has X.com algorithm evolved since 2023 open

source release

663. How has X.com influenced 2024 and 2026 US election outcomes

664. How has X.com shaped global conservative movements

665. How has X.com user base changed since Elon Musk acquisition

666. How has X’s approach to political speech changed (e.g., reinstating banned accounts, reduced proactive moderation, algo adjustments for “negative” posts)?

667. How has X’s technical architecture evolved (legacy systems from Twitter, cost-cutting, layoffs, infrastructure changes)?

668. How has X’s usage changed post-rebrand (e.g., 55% still call it “Twitter,” declining trust for ads at 12%), and where are users migrating (Threads surpassing in DAUs)?

669. How has X’s user base evolved since the Musk acquisition (e.g., initial growth from reactivations, later stagnation or declines), and what factors like bots purges or app download records influenced it?

670. How has X’s “free speech absolutism” reshaped online norms, benefiting conservatives while alienating others?

671. How have changes to verification and paid features altered who gets visibility in replies and timelines?

672. How have Claude's user numbers grown recently

673. How have content moderation policies changed under X compared with pre-Musk Twitter (hate speech, misinformation, harassment, NSFW content)?

674. How have cost-cutting (layoffs, office closures) and revenue diversification efforts offset ad declines, and what are cash flow projections?

675. How have credit-rating agencies, banks, or investors revalued X’s debt and equity since the acquisition, and what scenarios do analysts outline (restructuring, refinancing, new equity partners)?

676. How have features like quote posts and reply sorting evolved to boost conversation quality or virality?

677. How have new features (payments, video, creator monetization, AI tools like Grok) been framed as steps toward that vision?

678. How have other late-night hosts, news outlets, or commentators reacted to Melania's statement and Kimmel's jokes?

679. How have policy changes affected relationships with governments, the EU, advertisers, and app stores?

680. How have relaxed moderation rules increased hate speech, harassment, or far-right Spaces, and what data quantifies the rise?

681. How have steep drops in ad revenue (e.g., reports of revenue falling by about half after the takeover) impacted X's cash flow and ability to service debt?

682. How have X.com trademark disputes impacted its rebranding costs

683. How I trained AI to recognize my truly urgent emails vs everything else.

684. How integrated are audio/video calls, and what updates allow editing or priority notifications?

685. How is Anthropic gaining on OpenAI in enterprise

686. How is Grok (xAI chatbot) embedded (access for Premium users, data usage for training, in-feed summaries or Radar trends)?

687. How is Grok embedded technically (e.g., API calls from feeds, real-time summarization via transformer models, data pipeline from posts to training)?

688. How is X attempting to retain legal control over the legacy "Twitter" name, logo, and "Tweet" trademarks after rebranding, and what arguments is it making that the mark was not abandoned?

689. How local-first and offline-first ideas might reshape mainstream productivity apps over the next decade.

690. How local-first architectures work under the hood (CRDTs, sync protocols, conflict resolution).

691. How local-first ideas are influencing modern productivity apps and “life OS” systems

692. How low can you go? – experimenting with the weakest hardware that can still run useful local AI.

693. How many arbitration or lawsuit claims have former employees brought over layoffs, severance, and workplace issues after the acquisition, and what has X’s strategy been for handling these (individual arbitration vs. class actions)?

694. How many subscribers does Peacock have now

695. How might AI integrations (Grok vs. Meta AI) or payments reshape the race, and where could X lose ground to “safe” alternatives?

696. How might edge computing, 5G, or satellite integration (Starlink) reshape X’s global delivery and low-latency features?

697. How might Melania’s statement affect ongoing efforts in Congress to release or investigate Epstein-related files signed into law by Trump?

698. How might new laws on AI, data privacy, or platform liability increase X’s legal exposure or require costly compliance changes in the next few years?

699. How might regulation, AI integration, or a new competitor reshape X’s trajectory in the next 3–5 years?

700. How might regulatory wins (e.g., favorable court rulings on moderation laws) or losses (EU DSA fines, app store battles) reshape X’s global footprint?

701. How might U.S. policy under Trump 2.0 (deregulation, Section 230 protections) vs. EU/UK crackdowns create a fragmented global X.com experience?

702. How much does DI.FM premium subscription cost

703. How much of the lake’s decline is attributed to climate change versus upstream water use for agriculture and cities?

704. How much revenue does X Premium generate annually (e.g., early figures around $100–200M, with growth projections), and what uptake rates or churn challenges exist among users?

705. How much should you let AI delete or archive on its own? (risk and safety guidelines).

706. How much time do average users spend on X daily (e.g., 30+ minutes reported, down to 11–34 minutes in recent estimates), and what’s the typical session frequency?

707. How much water do AI data centers consume daily

708. How non-technical users can still benefit from a self-hosted/open-source setup

709. How often does X update disclosures (promised every 4 weeks), and what quarterly transparency reports cover enforcement or bias audits?

710. How platforms like Google or TikTok handle scam ads

711. How rare is the original Wild Gunman arcade cabinet

712. How reliant are industries on X (e.g., finance traders on cashtags, newsrooms on trends, fandoms on Spaces), and what alternatives (Telegram, Discord servers) are they testing?

713. How SaaS and cloud-pricing models incentivize always-online tools, and where local-first breaks that pattern.

714. How Safavieh evolved from a rug specialist in 1914 to a global home furnishings powerhouse and what drove its expansion

715. How Spielberg compares Dune to Frankenstein adaptation

716. How streaming royalties work and how different platforms pay artists

717. How sustainable is X’s debt load (~$12B from acquisition), and what scenarios exist for refinancing, equity raises, or distress (creditor battles, asset sales)?

1776. YouTube Music features like offline listening and video integration.

BIG DOMAINS LIST

This massive list of websites should keep you busy for awhile if you like to discover new things on the internet.

This list was finalized on Saturday, January 31, 2026 at 2:44 AM CST with 4.3K listings.

Last updated on:

Thursday, May 21st, 2026 at 8:35 AM CST with 15.2K listings.

Some things to note about this domains list:

Some domains are very familiar on the internet. Others may not be to you. Some domains may not be in service any longer. I strive to keep this directory as USA-only as possible, however you may find some foreign country websites listed. Also I have no interest in curating religious websites in these listings, but due to the size of these listings, and limited time in my schedule, there may be some listed until I can remove them.

GROKIPEDIA TOPICS

Grokipedia.com is an alternative to Wikipedia.com but it's navigation system is not great. When you search for something on Grokipedia, you can end up with 800 pages of search results, and if you surf through the pages and click on a search result, and then need to go back, it does not hold your place in the search results. Then you have to start all over if you ware trying to surf through all of the articles.

So I decided to copy a huge list of topics from various searches. The idea behind this is to give bloggers who are looking for things to blog about a giant resource of things that can be looked up on Grokipedia.

G MIL Veterans

THE VETERAN'S FREEBIE (AND ALMOST FREE, PLUS MEMES AND JOKES)

PAGE - It’s no secret that one of the upsides of military service (along with the spiffy uniforms and sense of pride) is the wide array of military discounts and deals offered to us by numerous thoughtful businesses. Companies across the country offer great bargains on things like car rentals, flights, hotels, and more. But some brands go the extra mile to show their appreciation for the military community by offering some completely free stuff for veterans and/or those currently serving. We post the most relevant information available for the Veteran's Administration as well as other prominent Military Service Organizations.

YOUTUBE CHANNELS

This is a complete list of all of the Youtube channels I am following on my DTPIIXART personal Youtube account (the one I have Youtube Premium on) as of Monday, October 20th, 2025 at 8:01 PM CST, with 713 channels.

I have recently learned that Youtube allows you to follow up to around 2000 channels, unless you have a ton of followers. Since I don't post videos to my channel on the account, I'm probably never going to gain followers. So at some point I will have to make a decision to start unfollowing some accounts to make room for the accounts I like to follow the most. You may see some major changes coming to this list in future publications. I plan to unfollow some channels to prioritize following music channels and other things.

At some point I plan to start publishing these links on the SURFMAN.co website as a Youtube Channel Guide.
